America’s Response Force: Ready Today, Ready Tomorrow
The inaugural 2022 AUSA Warfighter Summit and Exposition is a two-and-a-half-day professional development event themed “America’s Response Force: Ready Today, Ready Tomorrow.” The primary focus will be on the Soldier, Army Civilian, Retiree, and defense industry professionals assigned to supporting Fort Bragg, North Carolina. This event will offer networking opportunities specific to operations and activities on or associated with Fort Bragg, enable the 77,000 Soldiers, Army Civilians, and contract partners to participate in a major professional Summit and Expo, and bring decision-makers together.

The 2022 AUSA Warfighter Summit and Exposition will feature presentations by Army senior leaders and distinguished speakers from across the defense and academic enterprise, including 12 General Officer-led commands based on Fort Bragg. Topics will span the seven warfighting functions and highlight ways Fort Bragg’s operational forces can sharpen their capability edge for winning throughout the expanded competitive space.
